A Perfect Example Of MOTHERHOOD

Missionary Lois Inez-Westbrook.. Born in a small town in Arkansa and raised in modest surroundings of a Rural area. Lois Inez-Kinlow married at a young age her childhood sweeheart, Aug-31st 1943. She relocated to Tac. WA. in 1955 where she soon found herself to be very busy pastor's wife when the then Elder Westbrook established his church. They later settled in the Spanaway area in 1968 a lovely home.

In 1977, she became first lady of the state when Elder Westbrook became Bishop with jurisdiction over Washing - ton State's Church of - God In Christ.

Among her many duties, She is President of Tacoma Ministers wives;, serves on the State Women's Dept., Sunday - School Teacher, Bible-Band Missionary, Purity Girls Advisor, serves on the Sick and Visiting Committee, and wherever needed she is always available.

Her favorite color is blue which stands for truth and loyalty that she exalts in all her personal dealings.

She has an excellent green thumb which is exhibited in her home by all her lovely plants her favorite foods are from the sea such as lobster, shrimp, and other comfined dishes like gumbo. She is artistic in the manner of sewing and crochet.

Her calm mature personality further aids her stately poise and often is set before us as an example of serenity.

She states her outlook of being a mother was to raise her eleven children to be pleasing to God. In this day and age of adverse family conditions it is wonderful to see before us a woman of such caliber that we can say she is a perfect example of motherhood

Spotlight On A MOTHER

SPOTLIGHT ON A MOTHER.

Her very earliest beginnings were in Dumas Arkansas where she was the third oldest daughter of Pastor and Mrs. N. Kinlow. Being raised in a religious home she came to know Christ at a early age. Her musical ability was nurtured and matured displaying an adept, fingering on the piano and a voice that allows the enabling powers of God to bless those who have been in a congregation when she has sung such favorites as "I'll tell it wherever I go", "I made a vow to the Lord," and he's sweet I know.

From her modest childhood she relocated to Tacoma where she met James T. - Watson at a fellow - ship meeting on Valentines's Day in 1965 At Emanuel Temple, C.O.G.I.C. By his own words when asked, "What was your first impression of her?" He replied, "A lasting one."

And they were married seven weeks later.

Having recently celebrated their 17th Wedding Anniversary his first impression has definately been proven.

Being the wife of a pastor places a tremendous amount of duties in addition to being a mother. But in Sis.- Verleda Watson you will find overwhelming understanding, love and concern. She heads the Artistic Fingers Auxillary at Greater Joy C.O.G.I.C. but don't be surprised if you find her in the kitchen cooking Bar-B-Que dinners to aid any of the fund raising Events Greater Joy may have. Whenever she's needed she's always available.

Being the mother of six children, ages fifteen to six, 3 boys and 3 girls, and a successful bank teller, co-owner of Ermaleda's Fashion Plus, a beautician, fashion co-ordinator, proficient seamstress, clever crafts designer. She still makes God first in her life.

When asked about his wifes favorite food's and recipe's Elder J.T. Watson said, "All of her cooking is his favorite."

STEAK, CHICKEN, HAM OKRA, MACARONI AND CHEESE, AND BANANA PUDDING. And with all the delicious country style foods she maintains a figure he's very pleased with.

Elder Watson states his wife is his "Best Critic" She personally enjoys driving on long trips, playing scrabble, reading, and occasional television viewing.

In all situations Sis. Verleda Watson is a Saint of God, with her bubbling personality loving concern, and kindness.

THESE ARE ALL LITTLE LAMPS THAT MAKE A SPOTLIGHT ON A MOTHER.

THE FACTS STAFF WISHES ALL THE MOTHERS OF THE COMMUNITY HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY

Willie White, teacher of first graders in Clover-Creek District at Bethel Elementary School was given the Washington Teacher of the year Award by the Washington Education Association on April 30, in Yakima.

The requirements are " The well-rounded teacher who is exceptional at what he or she does and has an exceptional touch with children". according to John Cahill, W.E.A.spokesman.

Being a working mother of seven of her own she states, "moving children "forward" is becoming increasingly difficult. Children should have rights, but parents and teachers have them too. "Teaching is a thankless job", None of us will get rich, but its personal satisfaction from working with kids and knowing you helped them along makes it worth while.

DANIEL'S Distinguished Citizen

Mrs. E. Ruth Daniels, wife of Mr. Henderson Daniels, and teacher at Whitman Elementary School will be awarded the distinguished Citizen Award by the Tacoma Urban League on May 10th.

Mrs. Daniels puts her energies into a large variety of organizations and projects that generate the equality of minorities and other disadvantaged persons. In the area's of education, employment development and political awareness. Ruth is the organizer and first chairperson of the Progressive Black Edu - cators of Tacoma Public Schools.

many needs of minorities and the disadvantaged that she was elected to the Pierce County Health Council as well She has been instrumental on the United-Way Budget Committee, Model Cities Executive Board and was one of the founders and charter member of Region X Citizens Participation Inc, prominently serving on the City of Tacoma's Urban Policy Committee as their Parliamentarian, she is also the Northwest Re - gional Director of the National Education Association. Black Caucus and is state director for Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Chapter membership even though we see here an outstanding list of accompliments these are but only a few. She has kept her progressive career while successfully maintaining a beautiful family life.

Another exellant example to us of what it is to be an out standing wife, mother and truly a VERY DISTING - UISHED CITIZEN.....

An Independent View from Capitol Hill

BY HON. GUS SAVAGE
First Black journalist ever elected to Congress

The Black press remains handcuffed due to the economic racism practiced by many white businesses and the firms which handle their advertising contracts.

Here's the twisted logic that often is presented to the Black press. White advertising executives contend they can reach more Blacks by placing ads in the white press, which has considerable Black readership, and that putting ads in the Black press is "a waste of money."

However, the contention about Blacks reading white newspapers in large numbers all but disappears when major metropolitan city editors are pressed to put more Black reporters on their pay rolls, or urged to carry more relevant Black news. They then insist that few Blacks consistently read daily newspapers, and that advertisers are really interested primarily in white suburban readers who have more money to spend on the products advertised.

White advertising executives tell Black newspaper publishers that more ads will be placed in Black newspapers as soon as the "quality" of these newspapers improves, ignoring the fact that the quality will remain the same without more ads which generate revenues to pay for the salaries of professionals and rising production costs.

The present plight of the Jackson Advocate, the oldest Black newspaper in Jackson, Mississippi, dramatizes the historical relationship of the Black press to the white community. Recently, two members of the Ku Klux Klan fired bullets through the front windows of the newspaper, which is one of the strongest voices against racial injustices in Mississippi and elsewhere.

In response, the local NAACP branch has set in motion a Black consumer boycott against those white businesses that have decided to stop running ads in the newspaper.

The above efforts by the Jackson Advocate and local NAACP are part of the glorious tradition of these organizations in the fight for Black liberation.

In 1909, a Black newspaper in Chicago, The Chicago Whip, started a drive aimed at getting Blacks to stop shopping at stores that serviced Blacks but refused to hire Black employees. Six months after the campaign, Blacks in Chicago won thousands of jobs. However, the Black newspaper suffered a white economic backlash and folded.

In 1934, the Los Angeles Sentinel started a " Don't Shop Where You Can't Work" campaign. The result was again more jobs for Blacks. The newspaper managed to keep publishing but the level of advertising did not pick up.

So manu of us make a habit of condemning the Black press for its shortcomings. But thank God we still have the Black press to condemn. Since the first Black newspaper (Freedon's Journal) was published in New York City in 1827, there have been 3,300 different Black newspapers published in the U.S. Today there are about 200 Black newspapers. This means the life span for a Black newspaper has amounted to on the average, nine years and a few months. The bottom line has been and always will be advertising revenues directed to Black newspapers came to one-half of one percent of the total dollar amount in the country.

We can no longer sit back while the Black press clings on from week to week. We must begin to pressure the white firms that take Black dollars to put some of those dollars back into the Black press. Also, if we support Black businesses more, then they will be able to place more ads in the Black press. We deserve the right to have a free press that serves our community.

I am proud to be the only professional Black journalist ever elected to Congress. I urge my readers not to let the Black press become the late great Black press.

WEYERHAEUSER COMPANY. OUTSTANDING AWARD.

The Weyerhaeuser Company, is being honored by the Tacoma - Urban League during its 14th Annual Dinner Meeting on May 10th. The Weyerhaeuser Company has been a stauch supporter of the league's economic developement plans and aided the league's programs this year with a $65,00000 line of credit, making it possible for the league to increase their credit to $100,000 to keep them reliable in this community where they are in need of being maintained.

The Weyerhaeuser Company has been consistantly more supportive of the league in it's efforts to alleinate the critical minority unemployment problem in this area, the company funds the Private Sector Employment Program, targeted to assist minorities with securing professional and technical jobs in the private business sector.

TACOMA URBAN LEAGUE ANNUAL DINNER-MEETING

Tacoma Urban League will hosts its 14th Annual Dinner Meeting on May 10, 1982. The league is surviving the economic crunch and budget cuts with some new approaches by seeking other funding sources from non-traditional means.

From last year they are now operating only 9 action programs instead of the original 14.

Employment in this area overall is 13% , but for the constituency of the leage unemployment is nearly 2½ times the overall rate. The leage staff has been reduced from 65 to 35, with service requests having been increased nearly 50%. With all of the economic difficulties of the Tacoma Urban League they are still committed to their guest for a more equal and a more just community.

Theme for the dinner is "TOGETHER AS A - COMMUNITY, WE WILL SURVIVE."

Malcolm's Sports Report

Lenny, what is the problem? You have some of the best talent in the N.B.A. And you are not using it right. For all you die hard Seattle fans, Seattle has the talent, but the coaching is flakey for some reason. When the sonics started losing toward the end of the regular season, Lenny said; he was using different combinations to see how they worked together for the up comming playoffs. The playoffs are here Lenny, stop expiermenting, and get down with the right people. By the time this article is read, the Super-Sonics might be sitting and watching like me and you. I hope not, but if Lenny doesn't get himself together they will. Like I have said so many times before, John Johnson is the key. With the Suporting cast of Gus at guard Lonnie and Jack at fowards and the " Sleeping Giant" James-Donaldson at Center. Fred Brown as the sixth man. I have said it before and I will say it again, with that line up you have five of the people that won the Championship in "79". I was listening to Lenny on T.V. after the last lost. The last two games were close and could have went either way he said. He didn't have the right people in. They asked John-Johnson about the 3-1 deficit. He said. "They" have come from that deficit before. Then it was Guss turn he said "WE" are not ready for a vacation yet. Check out JJ's "THEY" and Guss "WE" enough said. Woods Barbers had their Basketball Banquet last Saturday. Most Improved was given to James Burnside, Most Inspirational was Laffett Battle, the coaches trophy was given to Craig Smith, Mr. Defense was Rico Davis, and most valuable was "Big" Alvin Finkley. Congradulations fellas and good luck next year. Have any questions or answers drop me a line Malcolm 1019-So. 12th St. Tacoma,-WA 98405. Hoping not to many pockets are empty after the playoffs.

TACOMA GENERAL - BIRTHDAY.

Pierce County executive Booth Gardner and Tacoma Mayor Doug - Sutherland declared - Thursday, April 29th, Tacoma General Hospital. continues to provide this community and the Southwest Washington region with health care of the highest standard" and "has carried for the dream of its founder, Fannie C. Paddock to 'build in this place a house of mercy'".

Sutherland adds in the City of Tacoma proclamation that "Tacoma General Hospital is a tribute to the dream of a courageous lady" and "From its beginning, all who worked for and in the hospital did so with the primary purpose of assuaging the sick with gentle and compassionate care".

Tacoma General celebrated its birthday with a ceremony on April 29th at 2:00 P.M. in the Jackson Hall Auditorium where the first baby born in Tacoma General, marking the beginning of the second century, was honored. The CENTENNIAL TIME CAPsule was be sealed with memorabilia of the hospital's first hundred years, along with microfilmed messages from more than 5,000 community children and the adult public, gathered since January of this year.

Birthday cake was served from 11:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. in the hospital lobbies, according to David Michaud, hospital administrator.

BLACK TEEN AGERS-AND UNEMPLOYMENT
By Ernest Green

The Unemployment statistic for Mar. 1982, particularly as they pertain to black teenagers, constitute a shocking indictment of the Reagan Administration's employment programs and policies and of its attitudes toward the black community.

Not only does the overall unemployment rate stand at nine percent--the highest rate since world War II and nearly two percentage points above the rate during this administration's first full month in office -- but the rate for black teenagers is a mind-blowing 46 percent, an almost four percentage point increase in a month and a staggering increase of close to ten points since February, 1981. For black teenage males, the increase is nearly ten points just since last month!

Given the fact that the rates for white teenagers have actually come down from last month -- although they are somewhat highter than a year ago -- it is undeniable that the Reagan Administration is shortchanging those categories of joblessness where the need is greatest, and that its priorities are misplaced.

These worsening statistics and the multitude of human tragedies behind them are directly traceable to rollbacks of the very programs which offered black teen-agers hopes of some real progress in moving into the economic mainstream. CETA youth programs have been decimated -- the same CETA youth programs which in the previous Administration accounted for three fourths of the gains in the black youth unemployment rate, the first gains in the 1970s. The Job Corps, a program of proven effectiveness, has been severely damaged. Improvements in CETA's summer youth program, which were more closely tying in summer jobs to long-term employment prospects, have been emphasized and there are further plans for future decreases in the total program. And the

What's Happening to Male-Female Relationships?

Many social researchers tell us that marriages are in trouble. This is obvious, but I believe that we can't just stop there. To blame the problem on marriage is like blaming a local car dealer for a "lemon" that he sold to you. The real problem lies in where the car was made--the manufacturer. Likewise, the real problem lies in where the marriage was made -- the relationship.

I am convinced that many people meet, develop a physical attraction to each other, "fall in love" and get married, never realizing the reality of several months past, "I don't know you!"

As I said in an earlier article, the movie industry is partly responsible for the "Story-book" type romances that most of us tend to seek. However, the total responsibility must still remain with the individual.

"Getting to know you" seems to be a dying art. Many of us "fall in love" often with a "total stranger." I am totally convinced that we can't truly love someone until we get to know them. If we say that we do, then we are probably in love with an image of what we think that person to be, or what we hope he or she can become. There-in, the real danger, we attempt to change that person to fit our mold of what we want him or her to be. Sounds familiar? It should. It is the single most mistake in Male-female relationships--trying to change the other person.

If change does occur, it has to come from the individual, because he or she wanted to, not for any other reason. It's possible to persusde a person to change, but it will only be temporary. A person cannot be someone else for very long. The strain is too severe.

Let's look at some necessary aspects of acquiring and maintaining a good relationship.

Spend time together. Many of us spend a lot of time getting to know each other by going to movies, sport events, and other places where talking is not encouraged. Spend some time together in a park or an evening at home or strolling in a park where the two of you can talk without restraints.

Have common likes. It has been said by someone who obviously never had a meaningful relationship, "opposites attract." But, from my years of doing therapy this is not true when it comes to establishing a meaningful relationship. We need to have similar goals, likes, dislikes, etc. I can't think of more joy than to share something meaningful with someone else who can also appreciate it. This point could cover an entire article all by itself.

Acceptance. It is of the utmost importance that we accept others for and as they are, NOT for what we think they can be. A common mistake I hear all the timeis, "All men are alike" and/or "All women are alike."

Mutual Respect. A good relationship requires that we respect each other for what they are, are not, etc. Again this point fits with having similar likes.

Trust. Where there is no trust there is no relationship, but these few will get you started. They are equally important for both the male and female. The standards are the same.

If you have questions or subjects you would like to see appear in this column send them, addressed to me, in care of the Tacoma Facts.

THE WAY OF HOLINESS YOU MUST BE HOLY.

LEVITICUS 11:

44: For I am the lord your God: Ye shall there fore sactify yourselves, and ye shall be holy; for I am Holy: neither shall ye defile yourselves with any manner of creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

45: For I am the Lord that bringeth you up out of the land of Egypt., to be your God: ye shall there fore be Holy,

HEBREWS 12:

14: Follow peace with all men, and Holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord:

ISAIAH 35:

8: And a Highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The Way Of Holiness; The unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: The way faring men, though fools, shall not err therein.

SPEAKING OUT!

For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.
Acts 4:20

Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay.

INVITATION FOR APPLICATIONS FOR SECTION 202 FUND RESERAVATIONS

The Department of Housing and Urban Development will accept applications for newly constructed, substantially rehabilitated, or acquired (with or without moderate rehabilitation) Housing units under the Section 202 Direct Loan Program for Housing for the Elderly or Handicapped. Acquired properties are eligible only if they are for the purpose of providing group homes for the non-elderly handicapped.

Sectin 202 direct loan authority in the amount of approximately $11,204,200 is being made available to the Seattle HUD office jurisdiction to finance an estimated 230 units for the elderly and handicapped. Applications from all areas within the Seattle Area Offfice jurisdiction will be accepted and processed if the application is consistent with the local Housing Assistance Plan. Because of previous years' program selections, some localities have received a greater portion of housing for the elderly. As a result of the imbalance, it may not be possible to approve Section 202 applications in those localities. Applications for projects to be located in localities that have not previously received housing assistance for the elderly (including Farmers Home Administration) will be given priority consideration.

If selected, the Sponsor/Builder must provide evidence prior to the preconstruction conference and prior to final endorsement that minority business enterprises were given an opportunity to bid on and participate in at least 20 percent of the dollar value of the project.

The designated allocation area is the entire Seattle Area Office jurisdiction, subject to the limitations given above. The approximate amount of loan authority to be made available, and the estimated maximum number of units to be financed are listed below:

Metropolitan Areas (Benton, Franklin, King, Kitsap, Pierce, Snohomish, Spokane, Thurston, Whatcom, and Yakima Counties): $9,705,300 in loan authority; approximately 200 units.

Non-metropolitan Areas (All other counties except Clark, Klickitat and Skamania Counties which are part of the Portland Area Office jurisdiction): $1,498,900 in loan authority; approximately 30 units.

Applications must be received or postmarked by 4:30 P.M. on June 30, 1982. Appropriate instructions, forms and other program information are contained in an Application Package which may be obtained from the HUD Office, at 1321 Second Avenue, 4th Floor (Code 10.3HDH), Seattle, Washington 98101, telephone (206)442-1177. This office will conduct two workshops for interested applicants. One will be held in Seattle on May 11, 1982, at 10 A.M.— Location: Room 1021, Arcade Plaza Building, 1321 Second Avenue, Seattle, Washington. The second workshop will be held in Spokane, on May 18, 1982 at 10 A.M. in the U. S. Court House, West 920 Riverside Avenue, Room 752.

The purpose of the workshop is to explain the regulations and instructions governing the Section 202 Program and the Section 106(b) Non-profit Sponsor Housing Assistance Loan Program, to distribute the Application procedures, required exhibits, and any further information about the availability of loan authority to the designated allocation areas. Those planning to attend should call the Multifamily Housing Programs Branch, (206) 442-1177, to make reservations since space may be limited. There is no charge for the workshop.

NOTICE OF ACTION

By Pierce County Building Department

Pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 43.21C RCW, notice is hereby given that Pierce County did on April 23, 1982 take action which may or may not be or deemed to be a "major action significantly affecting the quality of the environment."

Any action to set aside, enjoin, review, or otherwise challenge such action on the grounds of noncompliance with the provisions of Chapter 43.21C RCW (State Environmental Policy Act) shall be commenced within thirty (30) days from second date of publication set forth below or be barred.

The action taken by Clark County, notice of which is hereby given, was issued as follows:

1. Issued building permits #821395, #821396, #821397, #821398, #821399, #821400 for a self service storage facility.
2. Construction of five (5) concrete buildings plus one free standing manager's office/residence: one 320⅔ x 46⅔.
3. Said action pertaining to property described as follows:

Beginning at the northwest corner of Lot 4, Section 2, Township 20 North, Range 2 East of the W.M., in Pierce County, Washington, thence east 7.85 chains; thence south 6.27 chains on a line that would intersect the south line of said Lot at a point 7.708 chains east of the southwest corner of said Lot; thence West 7.85 chains to the west line of said lot; thence North 6.37 chains to beginning, in Pierce County, Washington.

Except that portion conveyed to the state of Washington for primary State Highway No. 14 by deed dated February 24, 1956 and recorded March 30, 1956 under Auditor's Fee No. 1751256, and

Except the west 31 feet thereof.

Reserving to the seller an easement for ingress, egress, and Utility lines over the South 20 feet of the West 226.80 feet of the land described.

Reserving to the seller an easement for and the right to construct operate, maintain, repair and replace a sanitary sewer line over the South 20 feet of the land described herein.

The parties agree that at such time as engineering work is completed showing the most feasible route for a storm drainage line to grant each other easements over the land described herein and any lands to the south which the seller may then own or be purchasing on a contract. The width of said easement and the size of the storm drain shall be that recommended by the engineer designing the drainage system.

4. Pertinent documents may be examined during regular business hours at the office of Capital Northwest Management Corporation, 2920 West Harrison (P.O. Box 187), Olympia, Washington 98502.

SMALL BUSINESSES:

In recent months there have been increasing reports about adverse economic conditions in the business community. Naturally, much of this attention has been given to the major industries such as steel and auto; and for good reasons.

Many of the working families in our communities have jobs related to steel, and the rise and fall of steel prices has become a barometer for the economy since the production of many goods are tied directly to steel output. The auto industry is also critically important to the overall state of the economy. It's estimated that one of every five Americans has a job which is related to the automobile in some way.

The Small Business Administration is now predicting that the failure rate for small businesses will continue to lag behind any general recovery for the economy. Small businesses have suffered from the tight monetary, high interest rates policy of Reaganomics, and the end result has been consumer uncertainty and declining response.

However, we tend to overlook a problem which has become overshadowed by all the gloom from big business. The plight of small businesses remains a silent crisis.

Since the president's budget proposals went into effect, 50,000 small businesses have gone under.

We must guard against the further demise of small businesses because these ventures go to the very heart of our private enterprise system. However, because of the economic policies from the Reagan administration small businesses have and will continue to take it on the chin.

While small businesses are struggling to survive, the president managed to cut taxes for the rich and profitable corporations by a staggering $750 billion over the next five years.

Small businesses need reasonable interest rates, allowances for start up capital, tax breaks and additional monetary incentives to remain in business so they can be active in helping to revive our sluggist economy.

Reagonomics as an economic medicine has proven to be fatal for too many small businesses. Business failures were heaviest for small construction firms. From 1980 to 1981, the rate of failure for these firms increased by 49 percent. In retail trade the rate of failure jumped by 41 percent; for wholesale trade the rate was 32 percent; and for services the increase was 27 percent.

As a member of the Small Business Committee in Congress, as well as subcommittees ranging from minority enterprise to tax, access and equity capital, I encourage my readers to help me with the business that needs to be done: economic resuscitation for small business.

GOLD facts and fancies

Among the earliest uses of gold were the sculpted figures of rams, frogs and apes worn by ancient Babylonians some 4,000 years ago to ward off illness and evil.

One of the most prevalent uses of gold is to recognize and reward distinction. That helps explain why I. W. Harper "Gold Medal" is such a popular Kentucky Straight Bourbon whiskey—and such a treasured gift.

One of the least-known uses of gold is in radioactive isotopes in biological research and the treatment of cancer.
